ABOUT THE FOUNDER

Ryan Hart is a West Point graduate, PMP-certified project leader, former U.S. Army Armor Officer, Tank Commander, and manufacturing operations leader. His background includes leading teams, coordinating complex operations, managing high-value resources, improving production processes, and turning requirements into executable plans.

Hart Vanguard Solutions applies that same operating standard to every engagement: clear communication, disciplined execution, accurate documentation, and dependable follow-through. Government buyers and prime contractors collaborate directly with the owner for responsive support across technology procurement, contract documentation, program coordination, and operational improvement.

OWNER-LED ADVANTAGE

- Direct access to the decision-maker
- Fast, flexible small-business response
- PMP-based project coordination
- Compliance-minded documentation
- Lean and process-improvement focus
- Veteran-led accountability and follow-through
